

IDAHO WINES

A Documentary Film

The Idaho winemaking tale is ripe and ready for picking. Not only to promote local business, but to increase economic viability and to highlight Idaho's vineyards and wineries in the national arena.

The film will squeeze the juice from the fascinating story of those whose lives are impacted by the wine industry – growers, vintners, restaurateurs, etc. – by seamlessly blending their voices into one that speaks on the current state and future of the Idaho wine industry.

The first vineyard planted in Idaho was in 1864, and now vineyards are sprouting up at the fastest pace in the state's history with over 50 wineries to date.

A detailed documentary exposing the three different wine regions will assist Idaho as they ferment into a serious competitor in the wine business.

The vineyards and their owners have a story to tell. This documentary will highlight the past and fruitful future, as well as educate and explore modern agricultural practices.
